100% Customer Service

Smoke Control offers obligation free technical support throughout your design and documentation stage. This is particularly important for fire rated glazing systems so that the system specified can be certified on completion of installation without issue.

Mullions and transoms are normally used when the height or width of the opening exceeds the approved glass pane sizes, but are only one option. Our myriad of fire data allows us to provide solutions optimising both design and costs.

Please visit our web site for a complete set of specifications and drawings. If you would like our drawings in DWG format, simply give our technical department a call or email your request,

We will endeavour to respond to emails the same day !
